

ENVIRONMENTAL CONTROL SYSTEMS: HVAC

The HVAC system I'm proposing is a Variable Air Volume (VAV) system. It will have the ability to supply air at a variety of temperatures for different spaces. Each zone will have its own VAV and AHU box to allow for temperature regulation, and the system overall has good energy efficiency.

